

KopaTechnic Always (Original Score)

KopaTechnic is: Jimmie Alston, Amber Dirks, and R.K. Jackson

Combine a platinum/BMI award-winning dance music producer/remixer/musician, an internationally praised recording artist, and an innovative lyricist/musician and the result is KopaTechnic.

Dance music has been evolving since its birth in the mid-80's and nobody understands the evolution of such music like R.K. Jackson (Madonna's "Love Don't Live Here Anymore Remix (Triple Platinum Smash)", RuPaul's "Little Drummer Boy", Cece Peniston's "Finally"). Born in the era of disco and funky-style tunes, Jackson has forever been a believer in the celebratory message of dancing and what music can have on a person's soul.

Billboard-charting vocalist Amber Dirks (Sister Sledge, Reflex Ft. Amber Dirks "Feel The Love", DJ JST & Amber Dirks "Rejoice", and Power 2 Move "Stepping Out") offers her powerhouse vocals to the group and lyricist, Jimmie Alston, was more than willing to dedicate his skills and energy to the new project and it was then that this trio became what is now KopaTechnic.

With the release of their latest album, Always (Original Soundtrack), YouTube series features the music of KopaTechnic, graphics of Miguel Guerra, and adapted from the screenplay by Christopher Blair Harmon and Rodney K. Jackson. Always is the musical story of Dance music diva Desiree Dawkins' journey through pain, love, music, and fame.
